Assessment

1, Model of evaluation

The evaluation consists in: a exam (50%), essays (40%) and regular attendance and participation in class (10%).

-Exam

The exam will consists of two exercises:

- Multiple choice. Minimum grade in this part is 5/10.

-Open question. Minimum grade in this part is 3/10.

That is, only those students that obtain this minimum in each part will pass the exam. To pass the exam the final grade of the test must be of at least 5.

The final grade will be obtained from the mean of the two exercises.

There will be a second exam, with the same conditions, for those students that fail the test the first time.

- Essays

Students will have to submit two essays:

- First, an essay on one of the subjects addressed in the different seminars, in which the student must apply knowledge acquired in the theoretical classes. (Individual essay)

-Second, the conclusions of the debate that will be conducted in class. (group essay)

Those essays in which there is a wrong use of references and texts from other authors will be graded with a 0/10.

Students that fail the essay will have the opportunity to answer a practical question in the final test on one of the topics of the seminars.
