Methodology

A los cursos de alemán se intenta que el alumnado utilice el idioma activamente durante la clase y las prácticas que hace fuera del aula para llevar a cabo tareas de comunicación que se parezcan a aquello que hacemos en la vida real, en una variedad de situaciones y contextos diferentes. El profesorado motiva al estudiante para que utilice el idioma activamente, con el fin de aprender; así, diseña y promueve actividades para que el alumnado participe en clase y sea el protagonista de su aprendizaje.

La metodología es básicamente interactiva. Los estudiantes tienen que poner en práctica todos los conocimientos lingüísticos para cumplir una serie de tareas (orales y escritas), tanto en un contexto global como en el ámbito del turismo. De otra manera, el énfasis se pone en el proceso de aprendizaje más que no a recibir presentaciones teóricas del profesorado.

(1) Las actividades dirigidas incluyen la resolución de problemas, ejercicios, expresiones escritas y casos prácticos.

(2) Las tutorías en línea comprenden no sólo las consultas entre profesorado y alumnado por correo electrónico, sino también la consulta obligatoria de los documentos de evaluación que el profesorado va colgando en un entorno virtual a lo largo del semestre.

(3) El trabajo autónomo corresponde a las horas necesarias para adquirir los conocimientos teóricos de la asignatura (teoría) y a las horas asignadas al trabajo práctico (actividades dirigidas) relacionado con la resolución de problemas, ejercicios y casos prácticos o la elaboración de trabajos (búsqueda de información, redacción, presentación en público).

Assessment

Continuous assessment

Students must have attended at least 80% of their classes in order to be included in the continuous assessment process.

Continuous assessment activities

Writing tasks. Between two and five writing tasks are performed. Students may be asked to rewrite their texts to improve on the first version.

Portfolio. The portfolio contains between six and eight tasks, covering the four language skills. These may be done at home or in class.

The following are examples of these tasks.

Reading worksheets

Transformation exercises

Mini-tests

Self-assessment sheets

Information search

Production of documents

The days allocated to mid-course exams can be used to work on portfolio activities, such as the listening and reading mini-tests.

Speaking activities

Over the year, between one and two speaking activities will be conducted. These may be individual or group activities, and may take place in the classroom or be recorded and sent in. Depending on the level and the number of students in the class, they could be monologues, dialogues, presentations, etc.

Mid-course tests

One or more mid-course tests are held on the days set aside for this purpose, consisting of a writing test (one or two tasks) and/or a speaking test. These tests are in the same format as the final exam.

Attitude and participation. Students' degree of effort, attitude, and participation are assessed.

Final continuous assessment test

Writing and speaking. This test is on the same day as the final exam.

To pass the course an overall mark of 60% must be obtained (activities plus final test.)

Final exam

Students who have failed or not taken the continuous assessment are entitled to take a final exam that tests the four language skills. In order to pass the exam, and therefore the course itself, a minimum mark of 50% must be obtained in each skill (each part of the exam) and a minimum 60% overall.

Exam resits

Students with an average score between 3.5 and 4.999 in the final exam are entitled to a resit.

Resits involve retaking the parts of the exam on which their scores were below the overall average mark. In other words, the skills in which they obtained scores below 60%.

Changing the exam date

Students who cannot take the exam on the set dates due to health, work (trips or other similar obligations) or on compassionate grounds may ask their teacher for a change of date, supplying any necessary documents, and giving notice of at least seven calendar days except in extreme cases such as accidents. If the request is accepted, the exams must still be taken within the period set by the School of Tourism and Hotel Management.

Further points regarding assessment

Students who have passed the continuous assessment may not, under any circumstances, take the final exam in order to obtain a higher grade.

No level certificates of any kind are issued.

An overall average grade of 60% is required to pass the test.
