

International recognition of your PhD degree

Please remind the the UAB Graduate School grants the International recognition of your PhD degree if you fulfill the following conditions

- 1. Writing and discussion your PhD thesis in ENGLISH.
- 2. Having spent at least 3 months as a visiting researcher in a foreign university.

Be aware: if you are a foreign student thie host university has to be in a third country different from Spain and your home country

- 3. Appointing as a member of your PhD jury a scholar belonging to a foreign university different from the supervisor of your visiting period.

The research stay abroad is strongly suggested to everybody but above all to PhD candidates enjoying a scholarship.

Financial support for this stay abroad research period can be granted by the UAB Erasmus plus call (if your host institution is inside the EU and open to all PhD students at UAB) or other specific calls associated with your scholarship (if granted by Spanish insititutions as FPI; PIF or FI).

Reminder: The planned research period abroad has to be communicated to the Board of the program (the CAPD) well in advance for its approval.