Assessment

Lectures will evaluate the competences of this subject through exams, individually or in small groups, resolution of practical cases, reviews of books or magazine articles.

The evaluation system is organized based on the following evidences of learning:

- Written tests: the teacher will evaluate the degree of knowledge of the theoretical content competences by performing a first test with a value of 25% on the final grade and a second test that will represent 25% of the final grade if the student exceeds the first and 50% otherwise.
- Coninuous evaluation of the practical part: the resolution of practical cases and public presentations of practices and assignments will represent 50% of the final grade.

During the semester, the following will be done:

- Students must solve, autonomously, practical cases in the classroom that will account for 35% of the final note.
- The students must carry out a group review, to choose from the list of books and articles elaborated by the teacher, who will count 15% of the grade.
- The public presentation of the work will represent half of the grades of the same. The clarity in the presentation of the main ideas and coherence and skill in defending the results obtained in the work done.

Not evaluable:

Student will be considered as "not evaluable" provided they do not take part in whatever exercise of evaluation. Therefore, those who take part in an exercise of evaluation can not be considered as "not evaluable".

Calendar of evaluation activities

The dates of the evaluation activities (midterm exams, exercises in the classroom, assignments, ...) will be announced well in advance during the semester.

The date of the final exam is scheduled in the assessment calendar of the Faculty.

"The dates of evaluation activities cannot be modified, unless there is an exceptional and duly justified reason why an evaluation activity cannot be carried out. In this case, the degree coordinator will contact both the teaching staff and the affected student, and a new date will be scheduled within the same academic period to make up for the missed evaluation activity." Section 1 of Article 115. Calendar of evaluation activities

(Academic Regulations UAB). Students of the Faculty of Economics and Business, who in accordance with the previous paragraph need to change an evaluation activity date must process the request by filling out an Application for exams' reschedule
